Summary Sidney Schuman, a retired maths teacher at Lewisham College, cycled a phenomenal 114 laps (28.388km) in an hour officially making him the world's fastest track cyclist in their 80s for this distance. "Doing the record feels great, but what is really fantastic is the love I've had from friends, family and other supporters, because at the end of the day, love is what makes the wheels go round."
